Turkish Diplomat Opens Underwater Photo Exhibition At U.N. Building

Published: 9/9/2008

UNITED NATIONS - A Turkish diplomat has opened an underwater photo exhibition titled "Colors of Seas from Lens of a Diplomat" at United Nations building.

Cagatay Erciyes, undersecretary in Turkey's permanent representation at UN, told reporters on Tuesday that he had been diving since he was a child, and he started to take underwater photos six years ago.

This is the first ever underwater photo exhibition opened at UN.

The photos were taken in Aegean and Mediterranean seas in Turkey as well as in Caribbean.

The exhibition will remain open till September 19th.
